JEFFERSON DAVIS CHAIR RECOVERED

By Michael Levenson

A carved limestone chair dedicated to Jefferson Davis disappeared last month from a Confederate burial ground in Selma, Ala., where it had stood since 1893, a group calling itself White Lies Matter claimed last week to have the chair in its possession. The group threatened to turn the chair into a toilet if its demands were not met.

In late March, the United Daughters of the Confederacy reported that an ornately carved stone chair dedicated to Confederate president Jefferson Davis—and estimated by the group to be worth $50,000—was stolen from a cemetery in Selma.

The New Orleans police said that a tip had led them to the “seemingly undamaged” chair near the intersection of Feliciana and North Galvez Streets on Thursday and that they had made plans to return the monument to its owner. The police said they had also arrested two people, Stanley Warnick, 32, and Kathryn Dionno, 24, and were seeking a third person.

Michael Jackson, the district attorney in Dallas County, Ala., said the three would face charges in Selma of extortion and theft.

TEXAS DIVISION
OFFICIAL
CORRESPONDENCE

4/22/2021 Craig Stone Lt. Commander
Texas Division

Commander Oliver continues to remain in ICU in a Waco hospital on a ventilator. Obviously Commander Oliver is incapable of fulfilling his duties as Commander until he is recovered. In addition, many of you know that I recently accepted a career change that has resulted in my relocation to Fairbanks, Alaska. Thanks to modern forms of communication, I continue to handle many of my duties as 1st Lt Commander but the work of the Sons of Confederate Veterans demands a Commander be located in Texas.

Therefore in accordance with the Texas Division Constitution Article 6.4.2 "The Lieutenant Division Commanders shall assist the Division Commander in the performance of his duties as directed by the Division Commander and, whenever the Commander is absent, serve in his stead in sequence of succession (first, second, and third) and with the consent of the Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans." Please direct your questions and concerns to our 2nd Lt. Commander

THE GUARDIAN

It is spring, and time to think about cleaning up the gravesites of your loved ones. Spring, especially around Memorial Day, is the best time to add fresh flowers. Your loved ones and ancestors deserve a resting place that celebrates their life and shows your love for them even after their passing. Just a few steps will make the gravesite one that shows the adoration and respect you have for them that is truly timeless.

Cemeteries can be sweet places of reflection and remembering. People go to cemeteries to mourn and honor their loved ones. Consequently, it is important to understand cemetery etiquette.

Memorial Day is a day for remembering those that died in service.

Remember to check the rules and regulations of your local cemetery before leaving anything at a gravesite.

The SCV Guardian Program is in place to honor our Confederate Ancestors. Consider taking part in this worthwhile program.

If you are interested in perpetuating the ideals that motivated your Confederate ancestor, the SCV needs you.

The memory and reputation of the Confederate soldier, as well as the motives for his suffering and sacrifice, are being consciously distorted by some in an attempt to alter history. Unless the descendants of Southern soldiers resist those efforts, a unique part of our nation's cultural heritage will cease to exist.

OUR PLEDGES

PLEDGE TO THE U.S. FLAG:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag Of the United States of America, And to the republic for which it stands, One nation, under God, indivisible, With liberty and justice for all.

PLEDGE TO THE TEXAS FLAG:

Honor the Texas Flag; I pledge allegiance to thee Texas, one state under God, one and indivisible.

SALUTE TO THE CONFEDERATE FLAG:

I salute the Confederate Flag With affection, reverence, and Undying devotion to the cause For which it stands.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans is a non-profit, heritage organization whose mission is to preserve the history and legacy of Confederate Veterans. It is not associated with any anti-government or hate groups. Membership is open to any male descendant of a Confederate Veteran who served honorably in the Confederate armed forces.

CHARGE TO THE SONS OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS

“To you, Sons of Confederate Veterans, we will commit the vindication of the cause for which we fought. To your strength will be given the defense of the Confederate soldier’s good name, the guardianship of his history, the emulation of his virtues, the perpetuation of those principles which he loved and which you love also, and those ideals which made him glorious and which you also cherish.”

“Remember, it is your duty to see that the true history of the South is presented to future generations.”

United Confederate Veterans
New Orleans, Louisiana, April 25, 1906

“The SCV’s Best Hope for Success is Knowledge of the Truth”

SACRIFICE

by Andrew Huson

We as comfortable Americans greatly dislike sacrifice. Asking most Americans to sacrifice is like asking a cat to take a bath. In spite of how we might feel about it sacrifice is a very important part of our Christian life. Most people who choose not to follow the Lord do so because of the sacrifice involved in the Christian life.

Romans 12:1 “Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God’s mercy, to offer your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God, this is your spiritual act of worship”. Definition of Sacrifice-The offering of something that is precious, that has value, that is important. A sacrifice isn’t a sacrifice unless it costs you something.

Car, house, boat, RV, summer home, vacations, jet skis, better job, more money, more fun, bigger truck, more toys, faster toys. All these things are great, but it’s not all about these things. It’s about hurting, lost, and dying of our world. What are you willing to sacrifice?

Luke 21:1-4 “As he looked up, Jesus saw the rich putting their gifts into the treasury. He also saw a poor widow put in two very small copper coins. I tell you the truth, he said, this poor woman has put in more than all the others. All these people gave their gifts out of their wealth; but she out of her poverty put in all she had to live on.”

To offer something that is precious, that has value, that is important. To give so someone else didn’t have to go without.

If God didn’t call us to sacrifice beyond ourselves nothing great would ever be achieved for God. You sacrifice for what you care about.

Matt 10—“And anyone who does not take up his life and follow me is not worthy of me. Whoever finds his life will lose it. Whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.”

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is an American holiday, observed on the last Monday of May, honoring the men and women who died while serving in the U.S. military. Memorial Day 2021 will occur on Monday, May 31.

Originally known as Decoration Day, it originated in the years following the Civil War and became an official federal holiday in 1971. Americans observe Memorial Day by visiting cemeteries or memorials, holding family gatherings and participating in parades. Unofficially, it marks the beginning of the summer season. Each year on Memorial Day a national moment of remembrance takes place at 3:00 p.m. local time.

BATTLE OF YELLOW TAVERN

The Battle of Yellow Tavern was fought on May 11, 1864, as part of the Overland Campaign of the American Civil War. Union cavalry under Maj. Gen. Philip Sheridan was detached from Grant's Army of the Potomac to conduct a raid on Richmond, Virginia and challenge Confederate cavalry commander Maj. Gen. J.E.B. Stuart.

The two forces met at noon on May 11 at Yellow Tavern, an abandoned inn located 6 miles north of Richmond. Not only did the Union outnumber the Confederates by three divisions to two brigades, it had superior firepower—all were armed with rapid-firing Spencer carbines.

The Confederate troopers resisted from the low ridgeline bordering the road to Richmond for over three hours. A countercharge by the 1st Virginia Cavalry pushed the advancing Union troopers back from the hilltop. As the 5th Michigan Cavalry streamed in retreat past Stuart, a dismounted Union private, 44-year-old John A. Huff, a former sharpshooter, turned and shot Stuart with his .44-caliber revolver, from a distance of 10–30 yards. Stuart died in Richmond the following day. The fighting kept up for an hour after Stuart was wounded.

LIBERTY IS NOT A LUXURY

By Jim Waters

“Give me liberty or give me death,” Patrick Henry thundered. Our nation’s founders rightly held that allowing individuals to act out of self-interest while accepting responsibility for their decisions will most often result in the best collective outcomes for communities, states and the nation as a whole. Such an approach is certainly preferable to ceding our liberties to governing powers who don’t relish returning them, and, when they do, rarely return them in their original condition.

THE STEAMBOAT ERA ON CYPRESS BAYOU

By Donna McCann

During the steamboat era from 1840 to 1900, at least 324 different vessels operated west of Shreveport, 288 of which traveled as far as Jefferson. New settlers were coming to Texas in droves, and it was not uncommon to have 200 people on board along with all sorts of cargo. People and cargo from the steamboats arrived in places like Port Caddo, which serviced Marshall and Harrison County, or Jefferson.

The heyday of the steamboats on Cypress Bayou and the lakes took place during the thirty-three year span between 1840 and 1873. Two events in the mid-1870s would eventually doom the steamboat trade. The most important was the completion of new railroad lines which allowed trains to compete on both price and timeliness for freight hauling. In addition, the second clearing of the Great Raft above Shreveport and the blocking of the distributaries of the Red River caused the lake levels to drop, hindering navigation. Even so, steamboat activity continued at a declining pace on Cypress Bayou and the lakes until the last steamboat made the trip to Jefferson and back in 1905.

BATTLE OF NORTH ANNA

battlefields.org

On May 24, 1864, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's forces continued to advance south of the North Anna River from ground gained the previous day. Union troops were brought up short by Gen. Robert E. Lee's "hog snout line," which forced Grant to divide his force into three parts to attack. Union General Warren's V Corps remained on the Union right, Gen. Ambrose Burnside's IX Corps in the center, and Gen. Winfield S. Hancock's II Corps on the left.

After crossing at Quarles' Mill, an ill-advised Union attack by IX Corps infantry under Gen. James Ledlie was repulsed at Ox Ford. That same day, Hancock pushed his entire corps across the Chesterfield Bridge. In the afternoon, the Federals ran into Confederate skirmishers, sparking a furious firefight that devolved into a hand-to-hand struggle at Hanover Junction. Darkness ended the fighting and Grant ordered his commanders to halt and dig in.

On May 26, Grant withdrew both wings of the army back across the North Anna River. Grant continued his advance on Richmond.

WE WILL NOT ALLOW THIS IN TEXAS

April 21, 2021

Texas Governor Gregg Abbott Urges “2nd Amendment Sanctuary State” Legislation following President Biden’s Gun Control Declaration.

Gov. Greg Abbott called on state legislators to bring him a bill declaring Texas a Second Amendment Sanctuary following executive actions on gun control announced by Joe Biden. After Biden imposed six new measures aimed at making it more difficult for Americans to obtain guns, Abbott shot back that “Biden is threatening our 2nd Amendment rights. “He just announced a new liberal power grab to take away our guns,” Abbott declared, adding, “We will NOT allow this in Texas.”

“It’s time to get legislation making Texas a 2nd Amendment Sanctuary State passed and to my desk for signing,” the governor stated.

GILMER’S WATER SUPPLY

By G. H. Baird

Printed August 1946

Up to 1903, Gilmer’s water supply was obtained from shallow wells. Each household maintained a shallow well on its premises from which water for all purposes was supplied. In the business district there were three shallow wells that supplied water for the streets and for the public. One was located on the courthouse square, one on Henderson street near the entrance of Croley Brothers, and one on the west side of the square just off the sidewalk. This well proved to be a popular resort, as it was shaded in the afternoon, and was near the sidewalk. The men would sit on the edge of the sidewalk and whittle in the afternoons, getting their material to whittle on from a nearby grocery store. When the supply gave out, they would stand up and whittle on the well curb. Some of these men became expert whittlers. In a few years the city put in waterworks and these shallow wells were filled up.

CRIME OF THE PAST UPSHUR COUNTY TEXAS

Gilmer, Tx, Dec 14, 1887 - The post office at this place was broken into by burglars and robbed of stamps of all denominations. The burglars first broke into the blacksmith shop adjoining and secured what they needed. Then they prized open the front door. After getting into the building they broke the lock of the safe. Postmaster Shrum cannot give the exact amount taken.

Big Sandy, Tx. Feb 2, 1889 - Fatally Stabbed with a Pocket Knife. In a difficulty between W. T. Waddle and S. P. Kay of this place in a drug store this evening, the former was stabbed in the heart with a pocket knife and instantly killed. The two parties involved have families, and the wife of the deceased is now prostrated from the effects. An inquest will be held tonight.

Gilmer, Tx., July 15, 1914 - Killed his Stepfather. Lum Davis last night shot and killed his father, Dick Loving, near here. The cause is not known.

Simpsonville, Tx. Jan 27, 1923 – Mrs. Eve Tillery, wife of W. B. Tillery, farmer, is at liberty on $1,500 bond today and Charles Pilkington at the point of death as the result of pistol wounds sustained in the court house at Gilmer yesterday just previous to the time set for the trial of Pilkington upon a charge of attempted criminal assault preferred by Mrs. Tillery. The attempted assault is said to have occurred last July.

As Pilkington entered the court house, Mrs. Tillery confronted him drawing a pistol from a blanket in which was wrapped her infant child shot twice, the first bullet lodging in Pilkington's side, the other striking a bystander, J. W. Nelson, inflicting a wound in the arm. Following the shooting, Mrs. Tillery, accompanied by her husband, went to the county attorney's office and was released on bond.

CRISIS AT THE SOUTHERN BORDER

*By Chris Field
April 16, 2021*

Worry over the scope of the illegal immigration issues has grown among Americans to the point that it has overtaken the coronavirus on the "very big problem" scale, according to Pew Research. Immigrants began surging toward and across the U.S.-Mexico border following President Joe Biden's 2020 election victory. The crisis has seen record numbers of illegal aliens being detained, thousands of children thrown in cage-like facilities, and families separated. Communities are reportedly being forced to take and care for immigrants even if those communities don't have the resources. The federal government stands accused of not properly testing illegal aliens for COVID-19 and not informing communities that are being strong-armed into housing them about their health status.

COST TO TEXAS

By Trent Baker

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton shared that the ongoing crisis at the United States' border with Mexico costs residents of his state "of about $855 million a year." Paxton, saying his estimate is a "pretty conservative" one, pointed out that Texas is responsible for paying for the education and health care costs of those who come in illegally.

"We've known for decades that illegal immigration costs the state of Texas hundreds of millions of dollars," Paxton advised. "And we put money in to help with that because we have to because we are required to educate people who come here, we are required to take care of their health care costs, we have to deal with law enforcement issues. A conservative estimate is about $855 million a year. That's just the state of Texas. That does not include the entire nation."
